

Performance on Certification Examinations

Candidates enrolled in Florida DOE-approved programs, who are seeking teacher or educational leader certification, are required to demonstrate subject area competency on state certification examinations. The following information, provided by the Florida Department of Education, indicates that NSU completers (i.e., approved program graduates) in teacher or educational leader preparation programs are passing these required examinations and are meeting, or exceeding, statewide average pass rates. (Note: The designation of "Other enrolled students" includes all candidates who are still enrolled in the program. These candidates may be enrolled in early coursework and, thus, are not yet ready to complete test requirements. Therefore, scores for "Other enrolled students" may indicate lower pass rates since those candidates have not yet completed their testing requirements.)
