2015 Conference on
Global Leadership, Learning, and Research
2015 Conference on
Global Leadership, Learning, and Research

July 12–16, 2015
Greater Fort Lauderdale/Broward County Convention Center
Message from Nova Southeastern University

George L. Hanbury II, Ph.D.
NSU President and CEO

Nova Southeastern University (NSU) welcomes you to the 2015 Conference on Global Leadership, Learning, and Research. After celebrating our 50th anniversary in 2014, we continue to grow and expand academic offerings on campus, nationwide, and worldwide. Most of all, we remain committed to our student-focused mission and hope that, this year, you will enjoy being near our greater Fort Lauderdale area campus.

As you engage in your studies and complete your dissertations, be confident that NSU and the Fischler College's faculty, staff, and administration are here to support you and your academic goals. Enjoy this unique opportunity to network with colleagues, participate in valuable research-oriented sessions, and utilize university services.

All conference attendees will have an opportunity to visit and tour the NSU main campus on Tuesday, July 14, in the afternoon. NSU and the Fischler College will sponsor a Student Engagement Reception from 6:30 to 9:00 p.m. on Tuesday evening. Transportation will be provided to and from main campus. I look forward to meeting you there!

Fins Up! And Go Sharks!

George L. Hanbury II, Ph.D.
President and Chief Executive Officer
Nova Southeastern University
Message from the Abraham S. Fischler College of Education

Lynne Schrum, Ph.D.
Dean

This, our 11th annual conference, is of particular importance as Nova Southeastern University moves into its second half century of exceptional contributions, welcomes a new dean, and becomes the Abraham S. Fischler College of Education (FCE). It has a well-deserved and proud tradition of preparing professionals who have made significant contributions to both society and the university, and perhaps most important, all have contributed to the fabric of the Abraham S. Fischler College of Education.

As the university marches forward toward “one NSU,” we embrace the new challenges, new insights, and new successes, and most excitingly, new opportunities. Your involvement in this conference is one extremely important way of demonstrating your commitment to the future.

My colleagues and I wish you the best life has to offer, and we applaud your efforts and successes.

Lynne Schrum Ph.D.
Dean

CONFERENCE ANNOUNCEMENTS

Broward County Convention Center/Hotel Contact Information
The phone number for Broward County Convention Center, located at 1950 Eisenhower Boulevard, Fort Lauderdale, Florida (Conference Office/Room 302) is (954) 765-5900. The phone numbers for the three conference contracted hotels are: Hilton Fort Lauderdale Marina, (954) 463-4000; Embassy Suites Fort Lauderdale, (954) 527-2700; and Renaissance Fort Lauderdale Hotel, (954) 626-1700.

There are no conference activities at any of the conference hotels. Call the Broward County Convention Center (Conference Office/Room 302) for anything related to the summer conference.

Children in Sessions
Due to liability issues, children are not allowed to accompany students to classrooms, workshop sessions, or any conference-sponsored activities, nor can they be in the building unsupervised. Their presence may be a distraction to you and your fellow students, so please be considerate and arrange to have appropriate care for them while you are attending conference sessions.

Conference Office and Information Desk
Attendees should go to the conference office (Room 302) for general questions and information. Messages and changes to sessions will be posted on the message board located outside Room 302. Conference attendees may also use the message board to post notes and communicate with other conference attendees. The hours of operation for the conference office are as follows:

Connecting Educators Through Social Media
Abraham S. Fischler College of Education’s (FCE’s) social media presence is continuously expanding on Twitter, YouTube, Pinterest, and Facebook. Our fan engagement through these social networks is attributed to a variety of campaigns created to support FCE students’ success as educators, future administrators, and inspiring leaders. Students are encouraged to “like” the Abraham S. Fischler Facebook fan page at www.Facebook.com/FischlerEdu.

Dining Alternatives
A continental breakfast will be provided at the Convention Center Monday through Thursday from 7:15 to 8:00 a.m. Continental breakfast will not be provided at any of the conference hotels. The 17th Street Causeway area has numerous dining options from casual to fine dining, many within walking distance to hotels. See the map in Part Five for dining suggestions and their proximity to the Convention Center and hotels. Visit the Broward County Visitors Bureau at www.sunny.org/nsu for more information.

Facility Use Requirements
Consistent with our concern for the environment and the health of others, this will be a non-smoking conference. Please do not smoke at any conference event. Smoking is prohibited in most public areas of the Convention Center.
Food and beverages, except bottled water, are prohibited and are not to be carried to and consumed in workshops and meeting rooms at the Convention Center. During breakfast and lunch periods, special areas are designated for consuming food and beverages.

Once the door has been closed and a workshop session has begun, kindly respect others by turning off OR silencing all cell phones and devices.

FCE Shark Shop
Stop by the NSU merchandise display Sunday through Thursday in Room 301 at the Convention Center to purchase a memento of your 2015 summer conference experience. Show off your NSU pride to friends and colleagues back home with a custom designed shirt, cap, coffee mug, or other items to celebrate your visit to Fort Lauderdale.

Latin American University Presidents
The Abraham S. Fischler College of Education is offering the fourth-annual seminar for Latin American university presidents and other educational leaders. The overarching theme of the 2015 seminar is Educational Leadership 3.0. The seminar offers a forum for presidents of universities and other high ranking educators from Latin America to hear experts' presentations on Educational Leadership in the 21st Century, the new MOOC's, Flipped Classrooms, the use of Social Media in Education, and other topics presented by the participants themselves in a round table setting. The participants will have an opportunity to tour NSU's campus and state-of-the-art library, including its virtual classrooms. University presidents from the following countries are attending this important seminar: Colombia, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, El Salvador, Mexico, Panama, Peru, Puerto Rico, Spain, and Venezuela.

Name Badges
All conference attendees will receive an ID badge. The badge must be worn at all times during regularly scheduled conference activities. Students using NSU-sponsored bus transportation must wear their conference badge or they will not be allowed to board the buses.

NSU Campus Tour
On Tuesday afternoon, find out more about NSU’s beautiful main campus and experience highlights of the Alvin Sherman Library, residence halls, University Center, and Health Professions Division—including a brief introduction to undergraduate admissions. The tour will be approximately 90 minutes, using buses and some limited walking. Buses will leave the Broward County Convention Center for the campus at 1:15 p.m. and return to the Convention Center at 4:00 p.m.

NSU/FCE Student Engagement Reception
All students are invited to join their NSU colleagues and faculty for great conversation, networking, food, refreshments, music, and fun—free of charge. Guests are also welcome, at a cost of $40.00 per person payable at the Shark Shop by the Registration desk before the reception. The reception is on Tuesday, July 14, from 6:30 to 9:00 p.m. at the Broward County Convention Center.

NSU Student SharkCard ID
The NSU SharkCard is the official NSU identification card. All students, faculty, adjunct faculty, and staff are required to carry the NSU SharkCard for identification purpose. Students will have the opportunity to obtain one at designated times during the conference in Room 204.
Parking Fees
Daily parking is available at the Broward County Convention Center for a fee.

Special Accommodations
Should any person require special assistance under the Americans with Disabilities Act, please contact the conference office (Registration) upon arrival.

Transportation
A floor plan of the Broward County Convention Center is included in the back of this book for your convenience. Buses will depart from the Convention Center, the Hilton Fort Lauderdale Marina, the Embassy Suites Fort Lauderdale, and the Renaissance Fort Lauderdale Hotel, beginning each morning at 6:30 a.m. (except Sunday when they will run continuously from 10:00 a.m. to 6:30 p.m.). On Tuesday, bus transportation will be provided to the NSU main campus leaving the Convention Center at 1:15 p.m.

You must wear your conference name badge to board the buses.

PRESENTATIONS AND WORKSHOPS

The following presentations and workshops will be offered from Sunday, July 12, through Thursday, July 16, at the Broward County Convention Center. See Part Four: Presentations for dates, times, locations, and descriptions of these offerings. Note that some presentations and workshops are offered in both English and Spanish.

Alumni/ Faculty/Student Expo—Poster and Networking Session
The Alumni/Faculty/Student Expo presents a unique learning and networking event that brings together doctoral students in a forum where students can discuss trends in education from pre-K to higher education. Through this networking event, students will be able to speak individually with current students, FCE faculty members, Dissertation of Distinction Award Winners, and recent graduates to make connections, look for future research ideas, or discover new opportunities for collaboration.

The 2014 Dissertation of Distinction Award winners and their dissertation chairs will discuss the process they used to develop a successful dissertation. In addition, these presentations will include time management tips, an overview of the research approach, and the key elements to building a productive professional relationship between student and chair.

Doctoral Program Individual Counseling
FCE doctoral enrollment counselors will be available at the conference to meet with students and discuss various issues related to the doctoral program. Students are invited to stop by and discuss questions about certification, state requirements, program outlines, scheduling, and other program-related matters.

Financial Aid Individual Counseling
Representatives from NSU’s Office of Student Financial Assistance will be available to answer questions about student loans.

Homeroom
Each day the 2015 Summer Conference begins with a “Concentration Homeroom” session. All first-time attending students are expected to participate in these sessions. Returning students are also invited and welcome. The homerooms are organized by academic departments and concentrations. Students should attend the homeroom for their assumed concentration/major. The homerooms will provide the opportunity for students to meet their colleagues in the same concentration/major and to meet their department faculty and chair. During these sessions, students will receive important information about the daily activities at the conference. In addition, students will have the opportunity to discuss issues related to their field of study.

International Spanish-Speaking Doctoral Students’ Sessions (en Español)
FCE is proud to, once again, welcome the international Spanish-speaking doctoral students to the summer conference. This year’s conference has many changes that we hope will help you as you move forward in your program. Sessions that provide detailed insights into each part of the dissertation process as well as expert presenters have been carefully selected. Your schedule mirrors the sessions being offered in English.

All international English-speaking students should follow the general schedule.

Meetings with Field Associates
Students will meet with their field associate on Sunday from 5:30 to 6:15 p.m. There will be a sign-in sheet, so please plan to attend this important session. Each field associate has different student groupings (online only, multiple cohorts, and alumni), so meetings will be customized for his or her group. Please bring business cards, as this will also be an opportunity to get to know the students in your field associate’s other cohorts, as well as a chance to meet NSU/FCE alumni. This meeting will provide an excellent platform for networking.

If you are an online-only student, and/or you are unsure who your field associate is, please go to the meeting held by the field associate closest to your geographic location. The field associates look forward to meeting with all students as the 2015 Summer Conference begins.

Meetings with Applied Dissertation Chairs
One of the highlights of the summer conference is the one-on-one meeting that each student has with his or her dissertation committee chair. With much of the doctoral program being online, these face-to-face meetings give students the opportunity to develop a rapport with the person with whom they will be working throughout the dissertation process. The student and chair will work on content-related aspects of the dissertation. These meetings are scheduled in advance by dissertation committee chair.

You must have a prearranged appointment if you are meeting with your dissertation chair.

Orientation for Spanish-Speaking Doctoral Students
The goal of the orientation session is to familiarize Spanish-speaking students from the Latin American clusters with the events that are taking place in the conference.

Qualitative Research Design and Data Analysis
(Pre-registered students only)
Qualitative Research Design and Data Analysis is a seminar designed specifically for the returning student who will conduct or is conducting a qualitative research dissertation.

Repeated Presentations
Many presentations will be repeated. See Part Four: Presentations for dates, times, and locations of each session.

Sanford Inspire Program Workshop
The Sanford Inspire Program believes each child deserves an inspirational teacher, one who possesses excellent instructional and relationship building skills. We create learning experiences designed to build teachers’ knowledge, skills, and mindsets so they can inspire students toward powerful academic and social outcomes. Our On-Demand Modules address the need for targeted, relevant professional development for teachers. Each 60-minute micro-course is grounded in current research and provides teachers with a resource that can be used in classrooms immediately.

Attend this session to learn about the Sanford Inspire Program’s On-Demand Modules and discover how these modules transform professional development for teachers.

Part Three: Biographies
George L. Hanbury II, Ph.D.

George L. Hanbury II, Ph.D., is the sixth president and chief executive officer of Nova Southeastern University (NSU). Located in the greater Fort Lauderdale, Florida, area, NSU is the largest private, not-for-profit institution of higher education in the state of Florida.

One of Hanbury's first accomplishments as president was to refocus the university's mission and vision, laying out eight core values to guide the university into 2020 and beyond. These are Academic Excellence, Student Centered, Integrity, Innovation, Opportunity, Scholarship/Research, Diversity, and Community. One early sign of success is that under Hanbury's leadership, NSU became 1 of only 37 universities in the nation to hold the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching's dual designation of both “Community Engaged” and “High Research Activity.”

Prior to his appointment as president in July 2011, Hanbury served NSU for 12 years as executive vice president and chief operating officer. Before entering higher education administration, he had a successful, 30-year career as city manager of the cities of Fort Lauderdale, Florida; Portsmouth, Virginia; and Virginia Beach, Virginia. Hanbury was also assistant city manager in Norfolk, Virginia. He holds a B.S. from Virginia Tech, an M.S. in Public Administration from Old Dominion, and a Ph.D. in Public Administration from Florida Atlantic University.

Hanbury also teaches leadership and public administration at NSU’s H. Wayne Huizenga College of Business and Entrepreneurship. He has been certified through the Senior Executive Institute at the University of Virginia and has been recognized for his leadership by service organizations, city councils and commissions, and chambers of commerce across the nation.

With honors from many organizations, Hanbury’s accolades include Fort Lauderdale’s 2013 Downtowner of the Year, the Ease Foundation Humanitarian of the Year Award, the Rotary Club of Davie-Cooper City 2006 Man of the Year, the American Diabetes Association Valor Award Recipient 2005, and the Distinguished Alumni of Old Dominion University award. He also supports a lot of civic activities by serving on numerous boards, including the Broward Workshop Executive Committee and the Sunshine State Conference.

Hanbury has lectured throughout the country to various executive groups on topics such as leadership, public policy, the council/manager form of government, economic development, executive motivation, and public speaking.
Ronald J. Chenail, Ph.D.

Ronald J. Chenail, Ph.D., is associate provost for Nova Southeastern University (NSU), professor of the Family Therapy Program, director of the Graduate Certificate in Qualitative Research Program, and professor of family therapy in the College of Humanities, Arts, and Social Sciences.

Prior to his current administrative responsibilities, Chenail served as NSU’s vice president of Institutional Effectiveness, assistant to the president for Academic Affairs, dean of the School of Social and Systemic Studies (the former name of the College of Humanities, Arts, and Social Sciences), and interim dean of what is now the College of Psychology. He is also editor in chief of NSU’s The Qualitative Report, the world’s first online interdisciplinary qualitative research journal. Since becoming a faculty member at NSU in 1989, Chenail has secured 12 grants and contracts for NSU totaling more than $1 million, produced more than 120 publications, including five books, and given more than 180 formal academic presentations at conferences and meetings. He currently serves on the editorial boards of Contemporary Family Therapy, Journal of Marital and Family Therapy, Families, Systems & Health: The Journal of Collaborative Family Health Care, American Journal of Family Therapy, and Qualitative Social Work.

Chenail received his B.A. in History from St. Bonaventure University, Oleans, New York; his M.Ed. in Education Psychology-Counseling from the University of Houston, Texas; and his Ph.D. in Family Therapy from NSU.

Lynne Schrum, Ph.D.

Lynne Schrum, Ph.D., is the dean of the Abraham S. Fischler College of Education. Previously, Schrum served as professor and dean of the College of Education and Human Services at West Virginia University (WVU) where she established her status as a visionary leader regarding use of technology in 21st-century learning environments and the transformation of teacher education through online and distance learning.

Prior to her WVU appointment, Schrum was professor and chair of the Department of Teaching and Learning at the University of Utah and professor and program coordinator for Elementary and Secondary Education Programs at George Mason University. Schrum’s faculty appointments have been at the University of Georgia, College of Education (assistant professor and associate professor) and SUNY Plattsburg, Center for Educational Studies and Services (assistant professor). In addition to her leadership positions, Schrum is a noted scholar and researcher, as well as a prolific author, having published 45 peer-reviewed research articles, written or edited 15 books, and contributed chapters to 13 edited books. She is also a highly sought after and frequent presenter at national and international conferences on topics related to electronic educational environments.

Schrum received her Bachelor of Science degree in Elementary Education from Southern Illinois University, her Master of Arts degree in Learning Disabilities and Elementary Education from the University of Evansville, and her Ph.D. from the University of Oregon (dissertation: Innovation and the Process of Change: A Case Study in Distance Education).

He earned a Doctor of Education from NSU. He is currently the director of distance education programs for the Universidad Autónoma de Nayarit. Chávez is coordinator of NSU programs in Mexico. In addition to serving as an adjunct professor at NSU, he has published more than 30 articles in peer-reviewed journals in Mexico, the United States, and Spain.

Lina Lopez Chiappone, Ph.D. (chiappon@nova.edu)
Lina Lopez Chiappone is currently interim chairperson of the Department of Language and Literacy, and a Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (TESOL) program professor at FCE. Chiappone earned her doctorate in TESOL and reading at the University of Miami, where she taught and conducted literacy research as part of several federal grants. She was also project director for a research study of best practices with English language learners in urban settings. Prior to that, Chiappone was a teacher for 10 years in Miami-Dade County Public Schools working primarily with the dropout prevention program at the elementary level. Her research and writing interests include digital reading, new literacies, and vocabulary learning as they relate to students learning English as a second language.

Diómedes Christopher, Ed.D. (diomchri@nova.edu)
Diómedes Christopher is dean of the business school at the Instituto Tecnológico de Santo Domingo and president of Christopher Consulting, a consulting company in the areas of strategy and marketing. He has done consulting for the United Nations Development Program and the Japanese International Cooperation Agency. He is a member of the editorial board of the journal Science and Society (Revista Ciencia y Sociedad) at the Instituto Tecnológico de Santo Domingo. Christopher was vice president of marketing and sales at BHD Bank and manager of planning. He has done consulting and research for multinational companies such as Virzon, Bupa, GTE Directories, and Exxon Standard Oil. He has performed more than 100 research projects in the areas of psychology, education, management, and marketing. Christopher is an adjunct professor at NSU where he teaches research and program evaluation. He is also a professor at the Polytechnic University of Puerto Rico and has tenure at the Universidad Autónoma de Santo Domingo and the Instituto Tecnológico de Santo Domingo. He earned a Doctor of Education degree from NSU, an M.B.A. from the University of Puerto Rico, and a master's degree in higher education from the Instituto Tecnológico de Santo Domingo.

Sarah Cisse, M.I.L.S. (sc1169@nova.edu)
Sarah Cisse received her bachelor's degree in English literature from the City University of New York and a master's degree in information and library science from Pratt Institute in New York City. Prior to becoming a librarian, she was an information assistant at the Museum at the Fashion Institute of Technology—SUNY. She currently works in the reference and instructional library services department in NSU's Alvin Sherman Library.

Mary A. Clisbee, Ed.D. (clisbee@nova.edu)
Mary A. Clisbee is a program professor in education leadership and research at FCE. With more than 25 years of experience as a K–12 teacher and school administrator in the United States and abroad, Clisbee specializes in women in educational leadership and education in less economically developed countries. Clisbee is a dissertation chair working primarily with students who are conducting qualitative studies. She earned a B.S. in Physical Education from Norwich University Military Academy, an M.Ed. in Community Counseling from Salem State University, and an Ed.D. in Leadership in Schooling from the University of Massachusetts.

Nydia Cummings, Ph.D. (cnydia@nova.edu)
Nydia Cummings is a program professor for research. She earned a master's degree in industrial chemistry from Arkansas State University and her Ph.D. in Educational Research from the University of Miami. For more than 20 years, she worked in the areas of standardized assessments and school accountability for the public school system at the district, state, and federal levels. Areas of expertise include item response theory, scaling and equating, Monte Carlo methods, research design, and statistical analysis of primary and secondary data. Cummings teaches research and statistics courses for the doctoral programs at FCE.

The concentration in Curriculum and Teaching was developed to prepare leaders serving in various roles in P-16 public and private institutions to skillfully provide direction in curriculum and teaching, and its development, implementation, and evaluation.

The primary goal of the concentration in Instructional Technology and Distance Education (ITDE) is to prepare students who desire to lead education and training organizations in improving teaching and learning through the scientifically valid application of instructional technology. The curriculum provides experiences in distance education, instructional media, instructional technology, instructional design, and research-based instructional decision-making. The doctoral program in instructional technology and distance education includes practical information, authentic experiences, and useful skills that can be applied to the continually evolving process of systems-based instruction using the technologies of teaching and learning.

The primary goal of the concentration in Health Care Education (HCE) is to prepare practicing educators and trainers, clinicians, and allied health professionals as facilitators, innovators, leaders, consultants, and instructional designers for the effective delivery of health information and education in academic, institutional, and public community-based settings including schools, universities, hospitals, long-term and rehabilitation centers, mental health clinics, public and community organizations, and private practice. The doctoral program fosters an in-depth application of knowledge and skills, inquiry and research, problem solving, collaboration and communication, professional development, higher order thinking skills, and ethical conduct.
The primary goal of the concentration in Higher Education Leadership (HEL) is to prepare students for leadership and lifelong learning in the field of higher education. The doctoral program combines theory and practice with the goal of equipping its graduates with an in-depth knowledge of leadership skills grounded in scholarship, educational research, and current best practices. The Higher Education Leadership concentration attracts students who are seeking a doctoral program with an established track record of successful graduates. This applied, practitioner-oriented program is specifically designed for individuals invested in advancing their higher education career options. The students are current or aspiring public or private college and university administrators and faculty who are looking to develop the leadership skills and management principles that can effectively prepare them to lead change across postsecondary education and within higher education institutions.

The primary goal of the concentration in Human Services Administration (HSA) is to prepare students for leadership, administration, management, and policy development of human services agencies and programs. The doctoral program fosters an in-depth application of knowledge and skills, inquiry and research, problem solving, collaboration and communication, professional development, ethical behavior, and higher order thinking skills.

The primary goal of the concentration in Organizational Leadership (OL) is to build upon the capacities of adult learners to meet both current and future challenges facing their organizations. Organizational leaders must acquire the skills to lead in an increasingly diverse world in the context of a changing economy, growing globalism, and rapidly developing technology. The OL concentration has been designed to meet the needs of practitioners by linking theory to best practices. The curriculum presents students with strategic opportunities to develop professionally and to apply their knowledge and skills to lead organizations effectively into the future.

The primary goal of the concentration in Instructional Leadership (IL) is to prepare students for leadership and lifelong learning in the field of education. This concentration will help participants develop leadership skills, including setting clear goals, allocating resources to instruction, managing curriculum, and monitoring lesson plans through self-reflection and analysis, and best practices through practical application. Successful graduates of the instructional leadership concentration will be able to use the knowledge, skills, and practices gained to solve problems in the workplace. The focus of instructional leadership is to develop educators who can create professional development activities that emphasize data-driven decision-making using technology to improve instruction.

Institutional Review Board Workshop (en Español)
Silvia Orta, Ed.D., FCE Program Professor, North Miami Beach, Florida

Wednesday, July 15  4:45–5:45 p.m.  Palm A–B

The purpose of this workshop is to provide students an overview of the Institutional Review Board (IRB) process and requisite documentation. The concept of research feasibility will be discussed as a key factor in the decision for selecting study participants and research design. All students are required to submit documents to the IRB after receiving approval for the proposal. In this workshop, federal guidelines and university policies for conducting research with human subjects will be discussed. Directions will be given for completing the required documents necessary for IRB review. Students will have the opportunity to ask questions and to discuss research study topics as they relate to IRB concerns.

Literature Review and Research Questions Workshop
Soledad Argüelles-Borge, Ph.D., and Alex Edmonds, Ph.D., FCE Program Professors, North Miami Beach, Florida

Monday, July 13  1:00–2:00 p.m.  Room 316

Cesáreo Morales Velázquez, Ph.D., Coordinator of Virtual Education for the Universidad Autónoma Metropolitana Unidad Iztapalapa in México City

Wednesday, July 25  9:00–10:30 a.m.  Palm A

This workshop focuses on assisting students with the development of the concept paper, with a focus on constructing a preliminary literature review and research questions. Students will use this session to work with faculty to further develop a draft of the concept paper.
Plagiarism

Marcelo Castro, Ph.D., Director of Criminal Justice Ph.D. Program and NSU Program Professor, Fort Lauderdale, Florida

Mark Seldine, Ed.D., FCE Director of Student Judicial Affairs, North Miami Beach, Florida

Sunday, July 12 3:45–5:15 p.m. Room 315
Monday, July 13 1:00–2:00 p.m. Floridian Ballroom A
Wednesday, July 15 2:15–3:15 p.m Room 318

Students will receive a broad overview of what constitutes plagiarism and its many pitfalls. Tools available for identifying and correcting plagiarism, such as Turnitin.com, will be discussed, along with avoidance strategies and best practices. Proper paraphrasing and knowing when and when not to cite will also be addressed. After attending this session, students will be fully aware of alternatives to plagiarism and the consequences of engaging in this practice.

Preparing for the “Write” Stuff

Karen D. Bowser, D.Ed., FCE Program Professor, North Miami Beach, Florida

Sunday, July 12 2:00–3:30 p.m. Floridian Ballroom D
Sunday, July 12 3:45–5:15 p.m. Floridian Ballroom D

Participants should bring their computers and any writing they have done to this point. Students will learn success strategies for surviving the dissertation process and how to write papers that professors (and Final Format Review readers) will want to read. Students will be given an overview of how to tune up their academic writing skills, grammar, APA/FCE formatting, and turning Microsoft Word settings into tools for making formatting easier.

Presenting Results: Quantitative and Qualitative Workshop—Proposal (en Español)

Pedro Méndez, Ed.D., FCE Adjunct Professor and Dissertation Chair; Professor at Universidad Nacional Abierta y a Distancia (UNAD/Florida)

Rubén Edel Navarro, Ph.D., FCE Dissertation Chair, Mexico

Wednesday, July 15 9:00–10:30 a.m. Palm B

This presentation will provide students with information about the content and development of Chapters 4 and 5 of the dissertation manuscript: the presentation of quantitative and/or qualitative results relative to each research question, the appropriate use of statistical or qualitative language to present data, and the restatement of results in Chapter 5 using little or no statistical jargon. The connection of the literature to the interpretation of research will be discussed.

Problem Statement and Purpose Statement Workshop

Soledad Argüelles-Borge, Ph.D., and Silvia Orta, Ed.D., FCE Program Professors, North Miami Beach, Florida

Ashley Russom, Ed.D., FCE Research Associate, North Miami Beach, Florida

Monday, July 13 1:00–2:00 p.m. Room 315
Monday, July 13 2:15–3:15 p.m. Room 315
Wednesday, July 15 1:00–2:00 p.m. Room 315
Wednesday, July 15 2:15–3:15 p.m. Room 315
Wednesday, July 15 3:30–4:30 p.m. Room 315

This workshop focuses on assisting students with identifying a research problem, justifying the study, and developing a background and rationale for the problem statement as it relates to the development of a research study. In addition, this workshop will present the various aspects of the development of purpose statements related to a specific problem. The difference between qualitative and quantitative purpose statements will be explored.
Program Evaluation Workshop
James M. Pann, Ph.D., FCE Program Professor, North Miami Beach, Florida

- Wednesday, July 15 1:00–2:00 p.m. Room 318
- Wednesday, July 15 3:30–4:30 p.m. Room 318

This workshop will examine the range of activities involved in designing, implementing, and producing the report for the evaluation of a well-defined program. This workshop will define and present illustrations of mixed methods research in the context of program evaluation. Specifically, information will be presented about combining complementary studies in a single investigation and using quantitative and qualitative research and methods. Also discussed will be the appropriateness of a mixed methods study, the key characteristics of a mixed methods study, and the most common mixed methods designs.

Publishing in Scholarly Journals
Anymir Orellana, Ed.D., and Charles Schlosser, Ph.D., FCE Program Professor, North Miami Beach, Florida
Michael Simonson, Ph.D., FCE Interim Department Chair, North Miami Beach, Florida

- Sunday, July 12 2:00–3:30 p.m. Room 316
- Sunday, July 12 3:45–5:15 p.m. Room 316

Researchers, professors, and practitioners interested in publication of scholarly work will find this professional workshop useful. Using examples, presentations, and discussion the following topics will be covered: developing a research and scholarship agenda, identifying a publishable topic, identifying journals appropriate for a scholarly topic, determining publication requirements, and producing multiple publications from a scholarly activity. Other topics to be covered, if those in attendance are interested, include: transforming dissertations into journal articles, helping students develop their own publishing agenda, overcoming writer's block—The First Sentence Approach, and identifying and working with co-authors. Moving beyond the research article, we will discuss book reviews, conference reports, product reviews, calendars, and determining first steps—making connections with editors and publishers.

Purpose Statement and Research Questions—Concept Paper (en Español)
Rafael Alfredo Collado Cruz, Ed.D., Professor Master's Program in Administration of Educational Centers at the Universidad Abierta para Adultos. Dominican Republic
Sandra Mendoza de Verde, Ed.D., FCE Adjunct Professor and Dissertation Chair, Professor at Universidad Nacional a Distancia de la Florida
Ninoska Rivas de Rojas, Ph.D., FCE Adjunct Professor and Dissertation Chair. North Miami Beach, Florida

- Tuesday, July 14 10:40 a.m.–noon Palm A

This presentation will cover the importance and the role of the purpose statement in research. The purpose statement sets the objectives, the intent, or the major idea of a proposal or a study. Also, the differences between the topic, problem, purpose, and the research questions will be highlighted.
The First Sentence Approach for Writing a Dissertation: “If you have a great first sentence, the next 5000 are easy”

Anymir Orellana, Ed.D., and Charles Schlosser, Ph.D., FCE Program Professors, North Miami Beach, Florida
Michael Simonson, Ph.D., FCE Interim Department Chair, North Miami Beach, Florida

Monday, July 13 1:00–2:00 p.m. Floridian Ballroom B–C
Monday, July 13 2:15–3:15 p.m. Floridian Ballroom B–C

A tried and true approach for writing—the first sentence approach—will be presented with examples and “secret” techniques. This session will present the technique used by all great writers—they capture the audience immediately. Dissertation writing should be approached in the same way. The reader should be excited about reading the dissertation, and thoughtful when they are finished. This session will examine this approach using examples, hands-on activities, and discussions.

The Writing Process: Empower Yourself for Success During All Phases of the Dissertation

Maureen McDermott, Ed.D., FCE Program Professor, North Miami Beach, Florida

Wednesday, July 15 1:00–2:00 p.m. Room 223
Wednesday, July 15 3:30–4:30 p.m. Room 213

This presentation addresses the concept of framing academic writing around a process-centered approach focused on a cluster of both thinking skills and recursive writing behaviors such as invention/prewriting, drafting, revision, editing, and publishing. In this session, participants will compose writing process journals in which they will chronicle their own thoughts and actions during each phase of the writing process to identify areas of strengths and areas for improvement. Those who already recognize this process will have opportunities to refine/adapt prior knowledge toward the production of their dissertation. Participants will also gain information about how other writing presentations offered fit within the context of the writing process.

Francisco Vital, Ed.D., Emeritis Professor of the Universidad Central de Venezuela

Monday, July 13 10:15 a.m.–noon Palm A

This workshop will provide guidelines on how to identify and substantiate a research problem situation, with its corresponding key terms and theoretical foundations that lead to the establishment of a research purpose and pertinent research question.

Writing a Proposal for Success (en Español)

Jenia Alfonzo-Garcia, Ph.D., FCE Dissertation Chair, North Miami Beach, Florida
Jorge Max Fernández, Ph.D., FCE Program Professor, North Miami Beach, Florida

Monday, July 13 10:15 a.m.–noon Palm B

This workshop will illustrate participants with the methodological research design, sample and instrument selection, data collection and analysis, all issues that must be addressed in an applied dissertation.
Writing Your Dissertation: A Short Session on the Big Picture

Julie Exposito, M.S., FCE Doctoral Student, English Language Program Coordinator, Florida Association of International Educators (FAIE), Miami, Florida
David B. Ross, Ed.D., FCE Program Professor, North Miami Beach, Florida

Monday, July 13 1:00–2:00 p.m. Room 318
Monday, July 13 2:15–3:15 p.m. Room 318

This session is designed to help dissertation students view the dissertation process from a broader spectrum. Using a comprehensive and interdisciplinary approach, presenters will illustrate a link between Chapter 2, Chapter 3, and Chapter 5 rather than presenting on one chapter in isolation. The session will cover the literature review, theoretical framework, limitations, delimitations, and suggested future research. In addition, a comparative analysis between scholarly resources and non-scholarly resources will be made, as well as an examination of the importance of outlining the dissertation with level headings. Both dissertation students and professors will gain a greater perspective of the dissertation process.

Katrina Pann, Ph.D., FCE Program Professor, North Miami Beach, Florida

- Thursday, July 16 9:00–10:30 a.m. Room 304

This presentation will provide students information about the content and development of Chapters 4 and 5 of the dissertation manuscript. The discussion will focus on the difference between reporting results and the interpretation of the findings.
Presenting Results: Quantitative and Qualitative Workshop—Proposal
James M. Pann, Ph.D., FCE Program Professor, North Miami Beach, Florida

Thursday, July 16 9:00–10:30 a.m. Room 305

This presentation will provide students with information about the content and development of Chapters 4 and 5 of the dissertation manuscript: the presentation of quantitative and/or qualitative results relative to each research question, the appropriate use of statistical or qualitative language to present data, and the restatement of results in Chapter 5 using little or no statistical jargon. The connection of the literature to the interpretation of research will be discussed.

Problem Statement Workshop—Concept Paper
Maria Rosa Ligas, Ph.D., FCE Program Professor, North Miami Beach, Florida

Tuesday, July 14 9:00–10:30 a.m. Room 304

This workshop focuses on assisting students with the development of the concept paper, with a focus on identifying the research problem and developing the background and rationale for the problem. In addition, this workshop will present the various aspects of the development of purpose statements related to a specific problem. The difference between qualitative and quantitative purpose statements will be explored.

Problem Statement Workshop—Proposal
Steven Hecht, Ph.D., FCE Program Professor, North Miami Beach, Florida

Tuesday, July 14 9:00–10:30 a.m. Room 305

This workshop focuses on assisting students with the development of the proposal, with a focus on identifying the research problem and developing the background and rationale for the problem. Students will use this session to discuss with the presenters the formulation of the problem statement using data and/or evidence and scholarly references.

Purpose Statement and Research Questions Workshop—Concept Paper
Jennifer Gunter Reeves, Ph.D., FCE Program Professor, North Miami Beach, Florida

Wednesday, July 15 9:00–10:30 a.m. Room 304

This presentation will cover the importance and the role of the purpose statement in research. The purpose statement sets the objectives, the intent, or the major idea of a proposal or a study. Also, the differences between the topic, problem, purpose, and the research questions will be highlighted.

Purpose Statement and Research Questions Workshop—Proposal
Tom Kennedy, Ph.D., FCE Program Professor, North Miami Beach, Florida

Wednesday, July 15 9:00–10:30 a.m. Room 305

This presentation will discuss the importance and the role of the purpose statement in research. The purpose statement sets the objectives, the intent, or the major idea of a proposal or a study. Also, differences will be highlighted between the topic, problem, purpose, and the research questions. A script for writing quantitative and qualitative purpose statements will be presented.
Quantitative Research Design—Concept Paper
Tom Kennedy, Ph.D., FCE Program Professor, North Miami Beach, Florida

Wednesday, July 15 10:40 a.m.–noon Room 304

This presentation will focus on the development and content of Chapter 3 of the dissertation. Specifically, the presentation will cover quantitative research designs and how to select the most appropriate research design. The discussion will focus on the alignment between the purpose statement, the research questions, and the research design.

Quantitative Research Design—Proposal
Nydia Cummings, Ph.D., FCE Program Professor for Research, North Miami Beach, Florida

Wednesday, July 15 10:40 a.m.–noon Room 305

This presentation will focus on the development and content of Chapter 3 of the dissertation. Specifically, the presentation will cover quantitative research designs and how to select the most appropriate research design. The use of peer-reviewed literature to make decisions about the design, instruments, and analysis will be discussed.

SAGE Research Methods—Concept Paper
SAGE Research Methods—Proposal
Michelle Keba, M.I.S., Reference and Instructional Services Librarian, NSU Alvin Sherman Library, Fort Lauderdale, Florida

Monday, July 13 10:15 a.m.–noon Room 305

Tap into 175,000 pages of SAGE’s renowned content with truly advanced search and discovery tools to help you design research projects, understand particular methods or identify a new method, conduct research, and write up findings. The presentation will also cover SAGE Research Methods Cases, a collection of case studies of real social research specially commissioned, and designed to help students understand often abstract methodological concepts by introducing them to case studies of real research projects.

Library Sessions

Reference librarians from NSU’s distance and instructional library services will conduct sessions to answer questions about literature reviews, the best databases to use, and how to access full-text articles online. They will help students with online document delivery requests, requesting journal articles, dissertations, educational documents, instruction on how to obtain hard-to-find materials online, and consulting with the reference librarian. The librarians will be available for hands-on, one-on-one individual library research assistance during times as indicated in the daily schedule.

Citing Sources in APA
Dawn Harper, M.S.L.I.S., Reference and Instructional Services Librarian, NSU Alvin Sherman Library, Fort Lauderdale, Florida
Laura L. Ramirez, M.L.I.S., Assistant Director of Instruction, NSU Alvin Sherman Library, Fort Lauderdale, Florida

Sunday, July 12  2:00–3:30 p.m.  Floridian Ballroom B–C
Monday, July 13  2:15–3:15 p.m.  Floridian Ballroom A
Wednesday, July 15  3:30–4:30 p.m.  Floridian Ballroom A

This popular APA workshop provides a refresher on the basics of in-text citations and formatting journal articles, websites, and books in the reference list. An overview of citation tools and their pitfalls, as well as helpful resources, will also be discussed.

Copyright
Stephen Carlisle, J.D., Copyright Officer, NSU, Fort Lauderdale, Florida

Wednesday, July 15  1:00–2:00 p.m.  Floridian Ballroom B–C
Wednesday, July 15  2:15–3:15 p.m.  Room 222

Copyright infringement, even when inadvertent and unintentional, has subjected universities across the country to litigation, fines and other penalties. Learn the basics of copyright law and how to properly use copyrighted works in an educational setting.

Endnote 1
Brian Ryckman, M.L.I.S., Reference and Instructional Services Librarian, NSU Alvin Sherman Library, Fort Lauderdale, Florida

Monday, July 13  1:00–2:00 p.m.  Room 305
Wednesday, July 15  1:00–2:00 p.m.  Room 220
Endnote 2
Stacy R. Allsop, M.L.S., M.I.S., Reference and Instructional Services Librarian, NSU Alvin Sherman Library, Fort Lauderdale, Florida

Monday, July 13 2:15–3:15 p.m. Room 305
Wednesday, July 15 3:30–4:30 p.m. Floridian Ballroom B–C

EndNote is a powerful citation management tool that helps you collect and organize references from online sources, save PDF documents, and offers a Cite While You Write feature. Part 1 will be an overview and help with downloading the software. Part 2 (must already have software) will cover exporting citations from databases and using EndNote in conjunction with Microsoft Word to insert citations and generate a reference list as you are writing.

Evaluating Information Sources
Jamie Segno, M.L.I.S., M.S.L., Reference and Instructional Services Librarian, NSU Alvin Sherman Library, Fort Lauderdale, Florida

Sunday, July 12 3:45–5:15 p.m. Floridian Ballroom B–C
Monday, July 13 2:15–3:15 p.m. Room 304

Learn how the information cycle transpires and when it is best to refer to specific types of information sources in your research. The instructor will demonstrate how to determine if a periodical is considered peer-reviewed, how to differentiate primary and secondary sources, and how to evaluate the quality of sources.

Finding Tests and Instruments
Dawn Harper, M.S.L.I.S., Reference and Instructional Services Librarian, NSU Alvin Sherman Library, Fort Lauderdale, Florida
Elena Soltau, M.L.I.S., Assistant Director of Reference, NSU Alvin Sherman Library, Fort Lauderdale, Florida

Joana C. Fernandez, M.L.I.S., Reference and Instructional Services Librarian, NSU Alvin Sherman Library, Fort Lauderdale, Florida
Laura L. Ramirez, M.L.I.S., Assistant Director of Instruction, NSU Alvin Sherman Library, Fort Lauderdale, Florida

Wednesday, July 15 3:30–4:30 p.m. Palm A–B

Don’t stress out trying to find validated tests and measurements. This presentation will cover library tools that will help you identify and select an appropriate instrument. Strategies for obtaining published and unpublished instruments will also be discussed.
Identifying Theories and Landmark Studies
Craig Amos, M.S.L.S., Subject Specialist for Science and Technology, NSU Alvin Sherman Library, Fort Lauderdale, Florida
Michelle Keba, M.I.S., Reference and Instructional Services Librarian, NSU Alvin Sherman Library, Fort Lauderdale, Florida

Monday, July 13 2:15–3:15 p.m. Room 221
Wednesday, July 15 1:00–2:00 p.m. Room 221
Wednesday, July 15 2:15–3:15 p.m. Room 221

Learn more about finding theoretical frameworks for your dissertation. The instructor will cover finding relevant dissertations and using Web of Science, a multidisciplinary database of more than 12,000 of the highest impact journals worldwide that will help you identify landmark or seminal studies by searching for frequently cited articles.

- Wednesday, July 15 2:15–3:15 p.m. Floridian Ballroom B–C
- Wednesday, July 15 3:30–4:30 p.m. Room 221

Receive practical tips and guidance on how to get your work published and maximize its dissemination. Learn about resources for getting published such as Cabell’s Directories of Publishing Opportunities and discover the advantages of using institutional repositories such as NSUWorks

SAGE Research Methods

Michelle Keba, M.I.S., Reference and Instructional Services Librarian, NSU Alvin Sherman Library, Fort Lauderdale, Florida

- Sunday, July 12 2:00–3:30 p.m. Room 305
- Sunday, July 12 3:45–5:15 p.m. Room 305

Tap into 175,000 pages of SAGE’s renowned content with truly advanced search and discovery tools to help you design research projects, understand particular methods or identify a new method, conduct research, and write up findings. The presentation will also cover SAGE Research Methods Cases, a collection of case studies of real social research specially commissioned, and designed to help students understand often abstract methodological concepts by introducing them to case studies of real research projects.
Meetings with Field Associates

Students will meet with their field associate on Sunday from 5:30 to 6:15 p.m. There will be a sign-in sheet, so please plan to attend this important session. Each field associate has different student groupings (online only, multiple cohorts, and alumni), so meetings will be customized for his or her group. Please bring business cards, as this will also be an opportunity to get to know the students in your field associate’s other cohorts as well as alumni. This meeting will provide an excellent platform for networking.

If you are an online only student, and/or you are unsure of who your field associate is, please go to the meeting held by the field associate closest to your geographic location. The field associates look forward to meeting with all students as the 2015 Summer Conference begins.

One of the highlights of the summer conference is the one-on-one meeting that each student has with his or her dissertation chair. With much of the doctoral program being online, these face-to-face meetings give students the opportunity to develop a rapport with the person with whom they will be working throughout the dissertation process. You will work on content-related aspects of your dissertation, depending on where you are in the process.

*You must have a prearranged appointment if you wish to speak with your dissertation chair.

Students who do not have an NSU SharkCard will have the opportunity to obtain one at designated times during the conference.
Orientation for Spanish-Speaking Doctoral Students

Pedro A. Hernandez, Ed.D., FCE Dissertation Services Associate for Latin America, Miami, Florida
Armando Rodriguez, Ed.D., FCE Executive Director of Latin American Education Programs/Program Professor, Miami, Florida

Sunday, July 12 4:00–6:00 p.m. Palm A–B

The primary goal of the orientation session is to familiarize Spanish-speaking students from the Latin American clusters with the events that are taking place in the conference. Students will have an opportunity to meet their chair face to face and work together on their dissertation benchmarks. Additionally, the calendar activities of the week will be reviewed with students so they can participate in instruction, workshops, and meetings with their chair that will help them proceed with their dissertation.

Qualitative Research Design and Data Analysis is a seminar designed specifically for the returning student who will conduct or is conducting a qualitative research dissertation, and a) has an approved concept paper and is working on chapter three, or b) has collected data and needs additional support analyzing the data. The seminar is a hands-on seminar designed to help you move forward in your dissertation journey and leave with a product that is more fully developed. You must bring your laptop and all your electronic files that are related to the development of your dissertation. You will be working on your dissertation throughout the seminar so it is imperative that you bring all necessary equipment and files, including your data, if possible.

The seminars will be a combination of direct instruction specifically about designing qualitative research or conducting data analysis, and time set aside to write with the support of FCE qualitative research professors.

The Sanford Inspire Program believes each child deserves an inspirational teacher, one who possesses excellent instructional and relationship-building skills. We create learning experiences designed to build teachers’ knowledge, skills, and mindsets so they can inspire students toward powerful academic and social outcomes. Our on-demand modules address the need for targeted, relevant professional development for teachers. Each 60-minute micro-course is grounded in current research and provides teachers with a resource that can be used in classrooms immediately.

Attend this session to learn about the Sanford Inspire Program’s on-demand modules and discover how these modules transform professional development for teachers.
